

NATIONAL SUPPORT & CRISIS HOTLINES

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Immediate danger or life-threatening emergency: Call 911 • Mental health or emotional crisis: Call or text 988

Survivor Justice Center

Call: (323) 980-3500 • Email: info@survivorjusticecenter.org

Website: survivorjusticecenter.org

Free legal services and advocacy for survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault, primarily serving Los Angeles County.

National Domestic Violence Hotline

800-799-SAFE (7233) • Text START to 88788

24/7 domestic violence support, safety planning and referrals. Spanish/interpreter access available.

988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline

Call/Text 988 • Spanish: press 2 or text AYUDA to 988

24/7 crisis and emotional support nationwide; you do not have to be suicidal.

National Sexual Assault Hotline — RAINN

800-656-HOPE (4673) • Text HOPE to 64673

24/7 sexual assault support in English and Spanish.

National Human Trafficking Hotline

888-373-7888 • Text 233733 • TTY 711

24/7; English/Spanish advocates and telephone interpretation in 200+ languages.

love is respect — Teen Dating Abuse

866-331-9474 • Text LOVEIS to 22522

24/7 dating-abuse support for young people, including LGBTQ+ and disability-related resources.

The Trevor Project — LGBTQ+ Young People

866-488-7386 • Text START to 678678 • TTY 866-803-3699

24/7 LGBTQ+ youth crisis support; not an IPV-specific hotline.

National Deaf Domestic Violence Hotline

Videophone 855-812-1001 • IM DeafHotline

24/7 Deaf advocates serving Deaf, DeafBlind and hard-of-hearing survivors.

Blind/Low-Vision & Other Disabled Survivors

National DV Hotline: 800-799-SAFE (7233)

National DV support, safety planning and referrals. No separate national DV hotline specifically for blind/low-vision survivors.

Language/access note: Spanish availability varies by service and communication method. Phone, text and internet activity may be monitored; use a safer device when possible.

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS & FIND HELP ANYWHERE IN THE U.S.

National starting points for survivors seeking legal, financial, privacy, and victims' rights resources.

PROTECTION ORDERS & LEGAL HELP

Protection orders are issued under state, Tribal, territorial, or local law. WomensLaw provides plain-language state-by-state legal information, legal referrals, and practical Quick Guides for common legal questions.

WomensLaw Quick Guides
womenslaw.org/laws/quick-guides
Email Hotline: hotline.womenslaw.org
National DV Hotline: 800-799-7233

CRIME VICTIM COMPENSATION

Every state and territory has a crime-victim compensation program. Eligibility and covered expenses vary. The U.S. DOJ Office for Victims of Crime provides a state-by-state locator for compensation and victim-assistance programs.

OVC Help in Your State
ovc.ojp.gov/help-for-victims/help-in-your-state
VictimConnect: 855-484-2846 (call/text)

ADDRESS CONFIDENTIALITY PROGRAMS

Many states have an Address Confidentiality Program (ACP)—the type of program called Safe at Home in California and some other states. ACPs may provide eligible survivors with a substitute mailing address and protections designed to keep their actual address out of certain public records. There is no single national Safe at Home program; enrollment is state-specific.

WomensLaw — ACP information womenslaw.org/safety-planning/safety-while-using-internet/all See: "I'm planning on moving. How can I keep my new address confidential?"
National DV Hotline: 800-799-7233 for local referrals

VICTIMS' RIGHTS & VICTIMCONNECT

Victims' rights and services vary by jurisdiction. The U.S. DOJ Office for Victims of Crime provides national information and a directory of services. VictimConnect offers confidential referrals to legal, counseling, advocacy, and other victim services nationwide.

VictimConnect Resource Center
Call/Text: 855-4-VICTIM (855-484-2846)
victimconnect.org • OVC: ovc.ojp.gov

Important: "Safe at Home" is a program name used by some states; nationally, these programs are generally called Address Confidentiality Programs (ACPs). Eligibility and protections vary by jurisdiction. This sheet is general information, not legal advice. In immediate danger, call 911.